

I am a Technology Coordinator at a rural school in Arizona. Jeremy Whitaker and Mike Pfieffer have worked with our district on several projects. The level of support both gentlemen provide surpasses that of competitors. They work diligently to prevent problems versus reacting to problems.

Last year they planned and implemented a Citrix environment. They were extremely professional during the installation and maintained end user connection throughout the project. The project was extremely difficult due to the various licensing issues and student restrictions. Mike and Jeremy worked through the issues and still brought the project in on time and budget. After the project was complete, they followed up with phone calls and emails asking for any potential issues. There were minimal issues to work out but they were taken care of efficiently. They take the time to understand what the customer wants before they start a project. This helps to ensure that there are no gaps at the end of the project between the expectation and reality.

It has been a pleasure working with Mike and Jeremy and I would gladly recommend them for any network and/or end user projects. They make running a network easy!
